Science and Technology Workforce Strategy

SRI designs workforce development strategies that provide regions and states a blueprint for a strong, industry-aligned workforce.

Workforce pipeline roadmap

Client-Specific Services

- Identification of skills in demand by regional employers

- Career and opportunity pathway identification for upward mobility

- Curriculum mapping and gap analysis for educational institutions and training programs

- Identification on of chronic worker shortages

- Impact assessment of existing workforce programs and initiatives on labor and wage growth

- Recommendation and evaluation framework development